"NO LONGER DISUNITED," SAYS GENERALISSIMO

China Capable of Setting Her Own House in Order:
Wants Chance to Work Out Her Own Destiny

MESSAGE TO ENGLISH READING PUBLIC

Asks to Be Left Without Interruption or Embarrassment: Advancing Cause of World Peace

Nanking, Oct. 9.

"CHINA is capable of doing great deeds by her own efforts, capable of wiping out destructive forces of militarism, capable of undertaking constructive measures for the welfare of her people; in short, capable of setting her own house in order, provided she is given the chance to work out her destiny uninterrupted and unembarrassed." This is the message of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, president of the Executive Yuan, and chairman of the Military Affairs Commission, to the English-reading public both in China and abroad, in commemoration of the founding of the Chinese Republic.

"This chance we want and this chance we must have," the Generalissimo declared. "To give China an opportunity for internal development is not only to render her indirect friendly assistance, but also to advance the cause of world peace, because, with her peace-loving millions and her unlimited resources, China, once prosperous and strong, will be one of the greatest stabilizing influences in the family of nations."

Choosing "China's Unification and Reconstruction" as the theme of his National Day greetings, Gen. Chiang calls the attention of all foreign friends to the fact that "China to-day is no longer the disunited country of the past years." At present, he says, Communism is no more a real menace to China.

Outlining the rapid strides achieved by the Government in various fields of endeavour, Gen. Chiang emphasizes that, "against great odds, China is forging ahead in the execution of her programme of national reconstruction. Nor is it in economic reconstruction alone that China has made progress. Great efforts are also being made to improve the efficiency of public administration, promote public health, enforce compulsory education, and to bring about financial reforms."
